Twelfth Night
by William Shakespeare

The Play

When fraternal twins Viola and Sebastian are separated in a shipwreck, Viola assumes that Sebastian is dead. Viola disguises herself as a boy and woos Olivia for her master, Duke Orsino, whom Viola loves. But Olivia falls in love with the disguised Viola instead. Meanwhile, Olivia's gluttonous relative, Sir Toby Belch, and his companions, pull a practical joke on the priggish Malvolio, Olivia's steward, who then acts so peculiarly that he is confined to a mental institution. Nothing is what it seems, and confusion reigns until the very last moment!

Director's Note

"... Or What You Will." Everything is not as it seems, and everyone believes what they want, until at last the truth is revealed. Twelfth Night is a farce without any slamming doors, but all the breakneck pace that will spin the audience around and around. Our production is set in the late 19th or possibly early 20th century (... what you will ...) in our very own Northwest environs, drawing on the theater's own good looks for determined loving spirit, whimsy, and illuminating the dreamy, lyrical, 'believe what you want' atmosphere of the Shakespeare's most popular comedy. It is almost heady with warmth and greenery. Welcome to Illyria!
