Neverland Finale ..... Peter & Company

"How are you going to fly?"

When I tell friends the Players are presenting Peter Pan, their first response is, "How are you going to fly Peter?" My answer is, "...using your imagination". It is the imagination all of us used as children at play. On the playground there were no limitations to the worlds we could create and the adventures we could experience.

Children fly everyday. When we become adults we forget how to fly if we forget how to use our imagination. As we grow older we label things, and once we label them, we tend to see the label and not the possibilities. If you are an adult reading this, today is your chance to use that great imagination you used so well as a child and see things like you are seeing them for the first time. If you are a child reading this, pretend you are a Lost Boy or Peter, Wendy, John, or Michael and off to Neverland you will travel!

Production Staff Profiles

Greg Brown has happily been doing sound for the Mountaineer Players since 1973. His other credits include Civic Light Opera, Pecadillo Players, and Upstage Productions.

Guy Caridi has been choreographing and performing dance since 1991, and for the Players since 2002. He has competed, coached and judged at national dance competitions, and taught and performed internationally. He has also choreographed numerous shows for local schools.

Mary Duckering has been involved with the Players in many capacities since 1970 and costumed many of the shows in the 1970s and 1980s. After a 10-year break, Mary has beautifully costumed the last four shows: Music Man, State Fair, The Wizard of Oz and Oliver!

Nancy Estill is co-producing her eighth show for the Mountaineer Players. She looks forward to the blooming of the rhododendrons every May.

Gala Lindvall is co-producing (with her good friend, Nancy) her eighth show for the Mountaineer Players. She loves helping to "pull it all together" while working with such a stellar production crew and watching her daughter perform on stage.

Katie McCoy has been a Mountaineer Player for many years and enjoys performing as well as helping with each spring production. She met her husband, Craig McCoy, 7 years ago during Fiddler on the Roof and has been laughing and enjoying life ever since!

Ken Michels' favorite roles: Elephant Man, Quasimodo, Tigger & D'Artagnon (Three Musketeers, 1985). He wrote and directed Robin Hood (Players, 1987). His most rewarding role is husband to Shawna and daddy to Sofie and Amelia. He was Scarecrow in The Wizard of Oz and Sykes in Oliver!.

Kari & Mark Morris are enjoying their first year with the Players. After attending Oliver! at the Forest Theater last year, our kids decided they needed to fight the pirates this year.

Craig Schieber has directed, choreographed and acted with the Players for over 10 years. He finds great pleasure in working with multi-age casts. Much thanks to Lee Ann Hittenberger for inspiration, ideas, and feedback. Craig also directs the BA in Education program daily at City University.

Chris Stanley is a model maker & Renaissance man who teaches Industrial Design Technology at the Art Institute of Seattle. He is grateful to have survived to work his 5th Players show as set designer.

Ariana Taylor-Stanley is a Junior at Bainbridge High School who enjoys music, theatre, debate and saving the earth. This is her first play in her 6 years with the Players to work with our talented accompanist instead of being on stage.

Cindy Taylor is a Family Physician with an office in Burien. She looks forward to her family's spring adventures with the Players, and is enjoying her 5th year as Prop Goddess.

Stephen Wall is directing his 4th Players' show, and appeared as the Cowardly Lion in The Wizard of Oz. He has sung with Seattle Opera for 24 years, and will appear with George Shangrow's Seattle Chamber Singers in June as the tenor soloist in Beethoven's Symphony #9 with Orchestra Seattle.

Debbie Valenta is having a great time playing piano and synthesizer for her 4th season with the Mountaineers Players. She thoroughly enjoys helping bring the play to life by adding the music accompaniment. She is a resident of Poulsbo and has been teaching piano for over 25 years.
